NEW WIRELESS MACHINE.
SOLDIER INVENTS GOOD ONE.
BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A new wireless instrument weighing but a pound and a half and found by exhaustive tests to give better results than the cumbersome DeForest machine, has been invented at Benicia barracks by Hugh Annis, a young soldier of the signal corps. The machine has transmitted and received messages from Mare Island and Yerba Buena Station (time after time). The apparatus is now being used at the barracks and has met with high commendation from the officials of the signal corps.

A fly walking on the outside of the box can be distinctly heard through the receiver at a distance of several feet. The machine will record the footsteps of a man walking a hundred or more feet away. The materials used in the construction of the instrument are extremely simple, but they combine qualities not possessed by any other wireless machine now in use.

SLOT MACHINES RUN.
GILROY THINKS THEY'RE LEGAL.
SAN JOSE, Aug. 23.—The grand jury today is investigating the subject of slot machines, which are operating in Gilroy and Santa Clara, although all other towns in the county have abolished them. Mayor George T. Dunlap, the members of the Gilroy Council and other Gilroy officials appeared before the grand jury this morning in answer to summons, and are today testifying before that body. The District Attorney holds that the operation of slot machines is illegal, while the officials of Gilroy and also of Santa Clara contend that as the State Supreme Court has not yet definitely decided the question, municipalities may legally issue license to slot machine owners.

COLLINS FIGHTING.
TO USE HABEAS CORPUS.
VICTORIA (B. C.), Aug. 23.—The appeal of George D. Collins, committed for extradition to San Francisco for perjury, was argued today by W. J. Taylor, K.C., upon habeas corpus proceedings brought by Collins' attorney, Judge Sampman's warrant of commitment before Justice Duff. Collins' counsel argued that the oath upon which perjury was predicted was not required by law and therefore could not be perjury and that the oath was not properly administered. The morning session was spent in arguing these law points by the defense. Collins, if Justice Duff rules against him, will, it is said, take habeas corpus proceedings before other Supreme Court Judges in turn before appealing to the full court. His intention is, according to his friends, to delay proceedings until a change of political administration is made in San Francisco, which he believes will benefit him. Collins today denied a statement attributed to him in special dispatches from Victoria, that the prosecution had offered to drop proceedings if he would pay the expenses of the prosecution to date.

FANATICS ACTIVE.
CHINESE BEGIN WORK.
VANCOUVER (B. C.), Aug. 23.—Word is received by the Chinese press of an outbreak in Yunnan province showing the revival of fanatical antagonism to Christian colonization. Official advices reaching Peking state that a mob of 1000 Buddhist lamas, by a preconcerted arrangement to drive the Christians out of their province, attacked the various French Roman Catholic establishments on the coast of Sawhoa, wrecking one church and killing many priests, the number being stated at between eighteen and twenty-three, with several wounded. The French Minister at Peking has made strong protests to the Chinese Ministry, demanding effectual punishment.

MUR STRICKEN DOWN.
ILL IN ARIZONA.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) John Muir, the venerable naturalist and geologist, and discoverer of the Muir glacier in Alaska, is seriously ill in Arizona. His condition—a complete nervous breakdown—is due to the sad death of his wife at Martinez two weeks ago and the sudden and serious illness of his daughter Helena, whose removal to Arizona just prior to the death of Mrs. Muir was necessitated as the only means of relieving her health. John Muir knows the flora of North America as perhaps no other living scientist knows it. He has been in permanent residence in the United States for many years, and has traveled on foot through the forests and plains of nearly every part of America, from Alaska to the torrid isthmus. His books on the glaciers and forests of America have attracted attention among scientists and nature lovers the world over. Because of his kindly and lovable nature, which was kind to that of the late and well-loved Joseph Le Conte, he has hosts of friends.

SLOPE BRIEFS.
Race War Begins.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—News of a race war that broke out in the salmon-packing camp at Nishanag, Alaska, between the Chinese and Italian workmen last month, was brought down by the steamer packer Salvo, which arrived here this morning. A petty dispute between an Italian and a Chinese brought on a general engagement, and for days 100 Chinese were besieged in the bunkhouse by a mob of enraged Italians, who swore they would exterminate the last Mongolian in the camp. The riot was finally quelled by troops summoned by the superintendent from the nearest military post after several had been killed and wounded on both sides. After the battle was over a drumhead court-martial was called to fix the blame for the outbreak, but the blame was not fixed on anyone.

Missionaries Adjourn.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—The international missionary convention of the Christian Church came to a close today. The committee to confer with the Free Baptists on union, made permanent. After attending to several matters of detail, the convention adjourned last night after a meeting of several affiliated societies were held. Tomorrow the delegates will leave for their homes.

Implied Contract Void.
SACRAMENTO (Cal.), Aug. 23.—The Appellate Court today handed down a decision affirming the judgment of the trial court in the case of W. A. Fouch, plaintiff and appellant, against the city of Sacramento, defendant and respondent. Fouch sued the city for $40,000, the value of bricks furnished the city. The bricks were furnished several years ago at the request of C. W. Payne, then city trustee, but there was no express contract between Fouch and the city.

ABBOTSFORD INN IS SOLD TO A BANKER.

KINGSLEY MACOMBER, vice-president of the Los Angeles Trust Company has purchased the Abbotford Inn on the corner of Eighth and Hope streets for $65,000. The deal has been since Saturday, but the final terms of the contract were not arranged until yesterday when the sale was consummated. R. A. Rowan & Co., engineers the deal for Abbot. Kingsley, the former owner of the valuable property and the understanding is that at least for the present the hostelry will be run under the present management and no immediate changes will be made. The sale was made, it is declared solely for speculation, as the site is considered valuable for hotel purposes and there are said to be plans in the near future for the erection there of a brick and steel hotel. Mr. Macomber, however, will hold the property without improvement for the present, though there is every reason for the belief that extensive changes will eventually be made.

NEW YORK CENTRAL TO USE ELECTRICITY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the largest and most significant railway deals in recent years was the purchase by the New York Central Railroad interests of vast electric power at Niagara Falls. It is practically admitted that the Central is preparing to electrify not only its suburban lines, but its entire network of railways, extending over some eight thousand miles. This will mean the revolution of railway business and the realization of the dream of many years. It will mean faster travel, noiseless travel, and travel without dust and cinders. It has been contemplated and many experiments have been made, but not until lately have the officials of the road decided that electric traction for railways is practicable.

Denman Resigns as Manager and Fisher Succeeds Him—Bylaws So Amended as to Give Former Absolute Control of All Extensions of the Lines of the System.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] General Manager A. C. Denman of the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company has resigned. Henry Fisher, who has been selected by the directors to succeed him, has been elected. The bylaws of the company were so amended as to give Denman, who is president of the company, absolute control of all extensions of the system, taking it entirely out of the general manager's jurisdiction. This unexpected turn in Traction affairs is the basis of a true under which the Fisher and Denman interests are at odds. It is understood the Fisher interests were prepared to make a legal fight against any extensions planned for the system and Denman's resignation was a concession to the reinstatement of Fisher. Extensions will go forward with a rush, including a double-track system to Riverside, a cut-off line to the Kern River and probably an extension to the Arrowhead Hot Springs.

Claim That Council's Act Does Not Meet With Approval—Australians Want California Oil For Streets and Gas Making—A New Pump Being Introduced.

It is not impossible that the Council may yet hear from the oil producers in regard to the decision not to buy oil for street use this year. It will be a loud, gruff voice that the City Fathers will hear and perhaps the oil men will seek the aid of citizens interested in the city's thoroughfares and induce them to join in a protest against the proposed economy in that line. It will doubtless be suggested to the Councilmen that they might beneficially devote some of their efforts in the direction of economy to other departments.

Pomona College Credits.

A statement about action taken at a recent meeting of the State Board of Education has been issued in behalf of Pomona College. According to the statement, the refusal of a request of Pomona College related only to certification of High School teachers, and in no manner to the standing of the college with the State University at Berkeley, or other universities. It is further stated that the State Board of Education, as well as Berkeley and Stanford, accept at full face value records of work done at Pomona, and that Pomona's diplomas admit to full graduate standing anywhere.

Phil Three Stories.

It may not be unusual for a man to do something that he could not repeat to save his life. But J. Howard Plasterer, did something yesterday that he probably could not repeat and escape death. He was working on the Laughlin annex on Hill street, over forty feet from the ground, when he thoughtlessly took a step backward into space, and went spinning to the ground. It was thought that he was fatally injured when taken to the Receiving Hospital, but the only serious injury he sustained was a fracture of the left leg, which was later reduced at the County Hospital, where he was sent for treatment. He has a wife and two children dependent upon him for support.

CONSTABLE TAKES ARMY.

He Completes the Capture Single-handed.

"Gen." Moore's Fort in the Hands of Constable.

Last Frantic Struggle of the Convict-grafter.

"Gen." Moore's Union Mission Army (of grafters) went into the hands of the constable yesterday.

The arrival of the officer with a writ of execution threw the latter-day disciple into a rage. He rushed at the constable like a bull and would have assaulted him, as he did the boy who came to serve papers upon him, but the constable frightened him.

Wherefore a man with a star sits in the lodging-house which the "general" calls his "barracks," and has an eye to the box-office receipts. The general has become as tame as a little yellow dog.

The attachment is the sequel of the civil suit brought against Moore by "Capt." Wilhelms of his army, a curbstone preacher who claims the general cheated him out of the salary he was to get.

The general disinclined to look at the writ in the suit, throwing a boy downstairs and kicking him brutally when he came to serve the papers. Therefore he made no answer to the suit, and judgment went against him yesterday by default for about $300. A writ of execution was immediately got out, and Deputy Constable Adams went down to serve it.

Adams is a little man about the size of an electric spark, and about as lively. The general came thundering down upon him like an overgrown locomotive. "You can't attach the place; get out," he roared.

Little Adams looked him coolly in the eye and said, wearily, "Aw cut it out."

"I'll throw you downstairs," howled the general.

"Well, I didn't come to be thrown downstairs," said the constable, and served the writ.

The general scurried around and found a lawyer; then made a funny attempt to have the lawsuit reopened.

His buncoling of Wilhelms, he said, was due to the fact that the "Grand Field Council" of his army couldn't get together with his local circle.

He explained that Wilhelms was to be paid by the secretary of the "Grand Field Council" as soon as the local expenses were paid and enough money left over.

The joke of it, of course, is that Moore is the Grand Field Council and the secretary of the Grand Field Council and the local secretary and the local council and all the officers and men of the army; in fact, this one old grafter and his wife are the Union Mission Army.

He says, in his petition to have the case reopened, that he made no defense because he understood that Wilhelms would drop the case and there would be satisfactory settlement for contributions. Even in these towns they are finding him out. The Salvation Army people are on their guard, knowing that he is using their name.

Altogether it looks as though it would be a hard winter for "Gen." Moore.

Question: Is He Pasadena's
"Count" Hoffman?

Girlish Bride Covers His Face With Kisses.

Long Cry from Crown City to Gotham's Tombs.

Dispatches from New York tell of the arrest in that city yesterday of young Carl H. Hoffman and his wife, Elizabeth, a handsome girl of 18, the couple being charged with swindling a real estate dealer and suspected of being "the much-wanted" perpetrators of forged-check frauds in several of the larger cities.

It is suspected that this Carl is none other than the blonde and dashing youth who a few months ago posed in Pasadena as the Count Von Hoffman, set many admirers aflutter, and some designing matrons by the ears, brought his brief and bogus career to a grand smash by inducing merchants of the Crown City to cash worthless checks for various sums, valued at $100,000, and finally escaped penitentiary through the supreme efforts of his attorney, Elmer I. Moody, who secured for him a suspended sentence under a ten years' probation arrangement.

One thing obtained: If Carl of the New York Tombs and "Count H." of Pasadena, Pasadena, are one and the same, that flashy individual has been a heart and annexed a bride since slipping out of these meshes under his long-term cloud. And if the eastern dispatches only contained some slight reference to an attempt on the part of Carl to tip the arresting officer with a $10 gold piece, or good naturedly to force a finger into the unwilling palm of his jailer, the dual identity of himself and the bogus Count would be instantly and firmly fixed. For during his meteoric journey through the pleasures of life in the Crown of the Valley the young man of local repute, because he called himself with a stream of golden ducats, the which were the mad delight of all avarice folk who happened to be in his path.

The news account from New York says that "In the arrest last night of Carl H. Hoffman and his wife, Elizabeth, a handsome girl of about 18 years, the police assert they captured the perpetrators of the real estate swindles in the Bronx, amounting to thousands of dollars. The Hoffmans claim Los Angeles, Cal., as their home."

"Circulars are alleged to have been sent all over the country recently by a detective agency seeking arrest of the couple."

"According to the detectives, Hoffman called at the office of a real estate broker last Friday and tried to make a deal for a house in the Bronx for which he claimed to have a buyer. At a later meeting for transferring the property the agent alleges that Hoffman handed over to bind the bargain a check of $2000, payable to the Connecticut National Bank of Connecticut, signed by "Sahr," and apparently properly certified. The agent then handed Hoffman a $25 check as his commission. This was soon deposited by Mrs. Hoffman, who drew against it for $150.

"When the agent took the $2000 check to the bank, however, it was learned, so the police charge, that no certification of that paper had been made by the Bridgeport bank. The police were at once called in and succeeded in capturing the Hoffmans a few hours later."

"Hoffman was held in $2000 bonds in court today, but his youthful bride was discharged. In court today counsel for the prisoners demanded the release of Mrs. Hoffman on the ground that, although she deposited the check alleged to have been obtained fraudulently, there was no evidence that she had any knowledge, criminally, in connection with it."

"We have been married only since last June," she cried, "and I love him and will do him no matter what happens! My home is in California, but my true name I refuse to give."

When the Hoffman who is remembered here as residing in Los Angeles put up at the Van Nuys Broadway Hotel, and there lived a life of ease and plenty for some weeks, but Los Angeles was too big a place for him, in which to create a stir, and so off to Pasadena he fled.

Taking apartments at the Hotel Maryland, he prefixed his name on the register of that hostelry with the word "Count," and annexed a final
"H" to the whole.

His slightest service by a bell boy or other attendant caused a $5 or $10 gold piece to slip languidly from his indifferent palm into the trembling hand of the lucky, and great grew his fame in that little land.

"Five-dollar tips cut holes in $100 bills, and are long 'the Count,' as he was affectionately known on the lips of those who knew him not, began to deplete his depleted fortunes at the expense of Pasadena merchants. It was after banking hours, 'y'know, and wouldn't Mr. Druggist be good enough to cash a small check—er?
Not only Mr. Druggist would, but Mr.
Confectioner and Mr. Florist and Mr.
Everybodymore or less did, with the result that in due time said checks were dishonored at banks and "the Count" reposed behind bars of an hour that followed and his cloudy exit from the Crown of the Valley which followed that, have been remarked.

Now if it prove true that "Carl H.
Hoffman" of New York and (the date) Count Von Hoffmann" of Pasadena are the same, there is a matter of ten years in a California penitentiary to be arranged after the Manhattan officials have robbed him of what liberty will.

"PINHEAD" HERE TO BURY DEAD.

TOTEMITE VIEWS THE REEKING CORPSE OF MILL STRIKE.

McCarthy and Gray Get Short Shrift When They Implore Employers to Take Back Men Guilty of Disloyalty—Hundreds of Independent Workmen Flocking in.

Buffeted about like a pair of tramps, "Pinhead" McCarthy and Jim Gray of the union-labor outfit are having the hardest time of their lives since their tortured existence.

Called here by the striking millmen, whose walkout became a lockout a little more than two weeks ago, they are begging the mill owners to make a settlement, in which mission they are meeting with determined refusal.

The mill owners, thoroughly organized for self-protection, had the totem-ites beaten on the day the ill-advised strike was called with the intent of "unionizing" Los Angeles. Every day since then, the employers have become stronger in their position. Now they will waste no time either with Gray and McCarthy or their foolish dupes.

The strike has resulted in placing the unions in a worse position than ever before. There was a time a few weeks when they had the foothold in a number of the leading planing mills of the city. Now they have been shut out of all but two or three small shops.

"What is more, the employers have brought into Los Angeles a large number of skilled and independent workmen, more than enough to fill all vacancies, and there are applications from hundreds of men, for whom places cannot be found."

Every planing mill in the city is running full-hand, the place of every striker having been filled. In some cases a few of the strikers, who have given assurance of their penitence, have been taken back, but the leaders in the movement never again will find work at their trade in this city.

In addition to the filling of the strikers' places, there are applications for positions from more than 200 men in the North and East, who are attracted by the wage schedule paid in Los Angeles—the highest of any city in the country.

"The mill owners, having filled their old vacancies, are standing by the contractors whom the agitators are attempting to cripple by calling strikes on jobs where material is used readily from mills where the strikes were called."

The labor crowd has been awaiting the arrival of "Pinhead" McCarthy.
They have not been able to effect a change in the situation.

Furthermore, the mill owners have a long list of carpenters in reserve—at least seventy-five of them—ready to go to work on any job where a strike is called.

Despite the petty annoyances that the unions have engineered, not one bit of material has been returned to the mills at which the strikes originally were called.

In every aspect the strike from its inception has been the most futile ever foisted by the unions on the community.
The thing is so plain that it smells, and it remains for "Pinhead" to bury it.

BUILDING OF NAPLES.

Formal Beginning of Extensive Work on Bulkheads Yesterday Forenoon.

The building of Naples, the to-be-favorite city of the lagoons of Alamitos Bay, was formally started yesterday, in the presence of several hundred people.

Many went down from Los Angeles, and others gathered from Long Beach and other near-by points. They were taken in launches from the pier to the spot where the long bulkhead is to commence, and there the formal exercises were carried through.

Addresses were made by R. D. Wade, Attorney Lamar Harris, Mr. Corbaley, the superintendent of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Construction Company, which has the contract for the work; and B. A. M. Parsons, president of the Naples company (and promoter of the plans for creating there a beautiful beach city).

After the addresses, Mr. Parsons and his son, A. C. Parsons, each took saws, and cut lengths of the heavy timber to be used in the framing of the first pile-driver. Then workmen stepped forward, and proceeded with the labor. After the pair, the Pa-sons entertained a company of twenty people at a luncheon at the Channel Club.

The work formally started yesterday involved the driving of a quarter of a million of dollars, and includes the construction of 13,000 lineal feet of concrete bulkheads, constructed of reinforced concrete on pile foundations.
The average height of this bulkhead will be fourteen feet. There will be five handsome bridges spanning the waterways, and forty pair of steps will be placed at convenient distances along the wall.

More than 300,000 cubic yards of sand will be dredged out of the bay by the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company, and this sand will be used for grading up behind the bulkheads, so as to give a level frontage on the waters. The water in the bay will be five feet deep at low tide.

Many of the visitors yesterday were property owners in Naples. The company only placed on the market 300 lots, and of these 250 have already been sold. It does not intend to place any more on the market this year.

The bulkheads and dredging are but a part of the plans for the beautifying of Naples. Plans have been drawn for several handsome structures on the water's edge. Nearly all of the purchasers of lots have signified their intention of erecting handsome residences.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the material on the ground for the beginning of work yesterday. A large pile of lumber for San Pablo with 100,000 feet of lumber for the preliminary work. It was started out from there on Tuesday, being towed by a large launch.

With near Devil's Gate the launch and barge were caught in the heavy breakers, the craft became unmanageable, and both were beached a short distance beyond the gate. Teams were secured, and all Tuesday night they worked, hauling the lumber across to the bay side, where men reeled it across to the place for the beginning of work. This was done so that the formal exercises and beginning of work could proceed as programmed.

The citizens of Los Angeles are asked to vote on the question of issuing bonds to pay for inaugurating the work, and naturally they want to know what work is necessary, how it is to be done and what it will cost.
The Times therefore has obtained authoritative official information on those points, and presents it herewith.

LOCATING THE LINE.
Presuming that the bond issue of $1,500,000 is authorized by the voters of Los Angeles next month, a corps of engineers will be put in the field at once to make minute surveys of the line, checking the levels accurately and providing precise data from which final location can be made on the ground and specifications prepared for the work of construction.

Some critics of the action of the Water Commission seem to think that this work of final surveying, location, estimate and detail specification should have been done before the general plan of obtaining water from Owens Valley was presented to the people of Los Angeles. They do not understand that a preliminary survey was made, and that from the data so obtained the engineers were able to locate a route, determine the character and amount of work necessary, and estimate the cost. The engineers have not gone blindly into the project, as foolish persons and others who have no acquaintance with engineering methods imagine.

As soon as the work of the field corps of surveyors is well under way, the upper end of the conduit line can be located definitely, and estimates and specifications can be prepared. It will take six months or more to complete the survey, and locate all the line, but the other work referred to will go on simultaneously.

Work Will Hum on Project in Six Months.

Every intelligent citizen of Los Angeles knows that the city must have a greatly increased supply of water, not only for future needs, but for present use. There is no room for two opinions on that point. Every citizen, who has taken the pains to inform himself, also knows now that the only accessible and available supply, commensurate with requirements of such a city as Los Angeles is inevitably destined to be, is in the watershed of the Owens River Valley.

In quantity and quality, the water poured by the streams of the Eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada into that valley meets the demands of the city, and it remains only for Los Angeles to complete the process of securing the right to use that water and provide the means of bringing it from Owens Valley to the San Fernando basin.

PRELIMINARY SURVEYS.
Before the project was presented to the city, engineers made a thorough, careful examination of the sources, measured the flow of the streams at all seasons, surveyed the route of the proposed conduit with sufficient accuracy to determine the feasibility of the scheme, made general plans of the work and estimated the cost. They found that there were no unusual obstacles to be overcome, no difficulties requiring untried engineering devices to surmount them, no new engineering problems to be solved. Bringing the water of Owens Valley to Los Angeles is a simple proposition of constructing so many miles of conduit, and deciding where placing mountain tunnels which would be cheaper than running around them. It is quite possible to bring the water to the city without tunnels, but it would cost more to build the additional miles of conduit, following contour lines, than to bore the holes on shorter lines.

The citizens of Los Angeles are asked to vote on the question of issuing bonds to pay for inaugurating
the work, and naturally they want to know what work is necessary, how it is to be done and what it will cost.
The Times therefore has obtained
authoritative official information on those points, and presents it here-
with.

POWER PLANT FIRST.

The first actual construction work will be the installation of a power plant on Cottonwood Creek. A mile and a half of pipe line will take the water of the creek from a point well up the cañon and conduct it to a crest of the foothills, from which it can be dropped 1000 feet to a point above the level of the conduit, with the fall so obtained, 5000 horse-power can be developed with a flow of 500 inches of water. The machinery necessary to the utilization of this power is steam-and machinery, and may be bought and set up as readily as the machinery for a sawmill.

The power of Cottonwood Creek will be carried by wire to all points along the line and used to drive drills, ex-cavators, tunnel cars and all other machinery employed in construction of the conduit and tunnels. Attempts have been made to hold up the city by filling on the power of Cottonwood Creek, but the creek is within the lines of the forest reserve, the Federal Government can do as it pleases to protect the public interests, and as a matter of fact—and of law, as stated by competent authorities—there are no valid claims in opposition to the city on the water power of Cottonwood Creek.

WHEN WORK CAN BEGIN.

Actual construction work can be begun in Owens Valley on the first of next January. The first section of the conduit line, from Charlie's Butte, seventeen miles above Independence, to Little Lake, in the lower end of the valley, may be located and built without reference to the level of the line farther down. Water will be taken into the conduit at the initial point directly from the river. During the month in the year the flow at that point is about 15,000 inches. With the "make" of the river below, where the city owns rights, and with the water of creeks owned by the city, the continuous flow in the conduit from Charlie's Butte to Little Lake is estimated by the engineers at 20,000 inches.

ALTERNATIVE PLANS.

Either one of two locations could be followed from Little Lake to Red Rock summit, one involving a four-mile tunnel into Jawbone Cañon and the other avoiding the tunnel by a five-mile fall from Little Lake that it is possible to follow a grade which would carry the line over the summit, through a short open cut. Engineer Mulholland figures, however, that it would be cheaper to bore through than to lengthen the conduit to wind along mountain sides. In this, as in the case

Map showing route of Owens River Conduit to Los Angeles and location of Tunnels.

of other points along the line, the question to be determined is simply one of comparative cost and not of engineering difficulties. It is probable that plans and specifications will be prepared covering two or three methods of crossing or circumventing the mountains, and that the selection may be governed by the bids.

TUNNELS OR CONDUIT.

From Jawbone Cañon to the Mojave side of the mountains the conduit may be carried through a three-mile tunnel, or around the mountain through Pine Cañon. Again, it is a question of comparative cost, with the balance probably in favor of a tunnel.

Along the mountains forming the north and west walls of the Mojave basin, the conduit will follow the contour until it reaches the Acton summit, where a four-mile tunnel will take it through to the Soledad.

From the Soledad into San Fernando basin, two or three routes are possible.
The conduit could be carried around the mountains, but a five-mile tunnel into Pacoima Cañon cuts off about fifteen miles of sidehill work in a rough country. It may be found advisable to take it through to the Soledad, cross the Pacoima, bore one mile and discharge the water into the Little Te-junga.

COST OF CEMENT WORK.
It will require a barrel and a half of cement to build one foot of conduit.
There will be about 300,000 feet of cement conduit, requiring 1,500,000 barrels of cement, which can be delivered at $4.50 a barrel. A year's output of the Napa and Suisun cement factories would be sufficient for the whole job. Engineer

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council yesterday reduced the bond tax rate from forty cents to twenty cents on each hundred dollars of assessed valuation, thereby effecting a saving to tax payers of about $300,000.

A peculiar situation develops in a divorce proceeding in consequence of an omission to have the interlocutory decree properly docketed in the court being compelled to wait for another year before the final decree is granted.

AT THE CITY HALL.
BOND TAX RATE CUT IN HALF.

QUARTER OF MILLION DOLLARS SAVED TO TAXPAYERS.

Many Appropriations Reduced to Bring Expenditures for Year Within the Dollar Tax Limit Named in the Charter—Street Department Suffers Most—School Fund Gets Increase.

The tax rate for the present fiscal year is $1.50 on each $100 of assessed property in the old city limits, a reduction of twenty cents on each $100 of valuation over the rate of last year.

The police, street, fire and park departments suffer severely in reduced appropriations, but the budget is brought for the first time in three years within the legal tax rate named in the charter.

This year the bond tax rate is twenty cents on each $100, just half last year's rate. But this year there will be no $300,000 surplus in the bond fund to go to make up deficits in funds for municipal expenses.

Not for fourteen years has the city had a lower tax rate than that named yesterday by the Council. It means retrenchment and a strict economic business administration for the next twelve months.

While the cut in the police appropriation figures the greatest on paper, the heaviest real cut took place in the street department estimate. The appropriation this year for the street department is $105,000 less than the amount actually expended by the department last year.

The police department suffered a reduction of $154,000 in its estimate of expense, but the sum allowed is only $115,000 less than the amount actually expended during the last fiscal year. The fire department estimate was short of $125,000, but the amount allowed is only $15,000 less than last year's expense.

The following table shows the estimates made this year by each department, the appropriations allowed and the expenses of each department for the last fiscal year:

The appropriations are made this year on recommendation of Councilmen Smith and Hammond of the Finance Committee. They have worked for five weeks to cut a complete municipal garment out of the cloth on hand. First they figured on a tax rate of $1.40. From the start they were determined that the departments should be so limited that the expense of the city would be met by the money raised on the dollar tax rate, plus the amount received for licenses. As soon as they learned that the $1.40 rate would raise $300,000 more bond money than would be needed for interest and sinking fund they directed the Auditor to prepare a statement showing the lowest bond rate that would raise the amount of money actually to be expended for bond interest and redemption during the year.

This table shows that a nineteen-cent rate in the old city limits would raise the sum required. Adding one cent to cover possible delinquencies they fixed the bond rate at 20 cents. This alone means a saving to the city of about $300,000. Last year and the year before the Council named an illegal bond rate and used the excess money for current bills.

In presenting the ordinance fixing the tax rate for the present year the Finance Committee made the following report:

One of the most arduous duties devolving upon your Finance Committee is the preparation of the annual budget. Like all former finance committees, we have been struggling with the estimates that have been submitted by the different departments, and while the result of our labor is a budget, we believe it is for the best interests of the city that the estimates made to the different departments in the tax rate hereafter recommended, should be adopted forthwith. The data upon which we place our conclusions are contained in a report of the City Auditor and in the report of the clerk of the board of equalization. These reports show the property valuation of the city this year to be as follows:

Old city	$126,294,722
Annex of '26	18,024,362
Annex of '29	1,947,272
Total	$146,266,356

Under our city charter, we are limited to a tax rate of one dollar for each hundred dollars of valuation, for all municipal purposes, other than payments on the bonded indebtedness, which would give us a revenue to be derived from taxation of $1,952,638.00.

We have also a revenue from licenses and from fees collected by several of the departments of the city government amounting to about $200,000. This, together with the amount derived from the sale of the city's real estate, makes a total revenue of $1,952,638.00. The total amount of the estimates submitted by the departments was $2,841,724.10. In order to come within the limitation prescribed by the charter, we have had to reduce the estimates by the aggregate amount of $1,889,086.10, which would make the remainder conform to the exact amount of our income, to wit, $1,952,638.00. In doing this, we have been compelled to reduce the estimates of the departments upon which we depend for safety and cleanliness, has necessarily been reduced to the extent possible amount under which they could exist.

In order to meet the payments on the bonded indebtedness we recommend the following tax levy:

Old city	$0.20
Annex of '26	0.12
Annex of '29	0.10

which would make the total tax levy, as follows:

Old city	$126,294,722
Annex of '26	18,024,362
Annex of '29	1,947,272
Total	$146,266,356

The draft of an ordinance fixing the tax levy for the year 1935 is herewith presented for adoption.

While expressing disappointment that his estimate had fared so badly, Street Superintendent Hanley yesterday afternoon said that he had already figured out saving of about $200,000 over last year's expenditures, and that the cut will not seriously cripple his department.

"Of course, there will be no oil on the streets this year," said Mr. Hanley. "I see that the Council has wiped that oil estimate entirely off the street department. I think I can save about $50,000 during the year in the item of expense for department supplies. Then I can save some money in the sprinkling and rolling appropriations. But, of course, I shall have to give up my plans for employing more men and teams, and it is in teams and laborers that the department will suffer most."

"One result of this will be that the department will now resort to the use of a great deal of that work has been done this year by us; now it will be necessary for the property owners on the streets to pay for resurfacing. There is also a great deal of work which we have done this year that belongs properly to the Engineer's department. I think that by the time I go over the list carefully I can find a way to get along with the reduced appropriation."

Park Secretary Mullally last night said that the park department fared better than some of the commissioners had expected, especially after they learned that the tax rate must be cut.

"I suppose that we shall lose the new conservatory," said Mr. Mullally, "but the improvement planned for Griffith Park, and the new aviary. But I dare say we shall be able to pull through the year in spite of the reduction."

It is in proposed increase of force and in substitutions that the police department will suffer. The department will have less money to expend this year than last.

But there is a general feeling in municipal circles that the Council has made an excellent appropriation of the city's funds, and that enough retrenchments have already been planned to more than make up for the revenue occasioned by reducing the tax rate.

This year the Finance Committee will keep a close supervision on the city's expenditures. The Auditor has agreed to make monthly reports to the Council of the condition of all department funds, and the Council will decline to O. K. demands for an appropriation that is exceeding its appropriation.

This means a marked reform in the method of supervising the expenditure of city money. Heretofore the Council has received a report from the Auditor but once a year.

Only Spook Howson is disconsolate. Far from rejoicing that the Council is able to reduce the tax rate, he is alarmed at the disconcerting effect of the ordinance was passed, that "this means a $100,000 deficit at the end of the year. We cannot get the city government on so little money."

The trouble is that the reduced appropriations cut out a number of petty grafts, in which Howson is more or less interested.

One surprise of the appropriation is the generous allowance made for the public schools. The common school appropriation is almost $50,000 greater than the sum expended by the school board last year.

BALKS AT GARBAGE.

COUNCIL IN A QUANDARY.

After preparing a perfume recommending a continuance of the present garbage contract with Charley Alexander at a generous raise in price, the Supply Committee of the Council suddenly got cold feet yesterday morning and asked that the question of garbage be referred to the Board of Public Works.

The result of this maneuver is that the garbage contract expired yesterday and this morning Alexander's teams are collecting waste just to show their good will toward the city.

The report prepared by Spook Howson, who is chairman of the Supply Committee, provides that Alexander should be paid $3000 a month for collection and disposing of garbage. The contract, which expired yesterday, provided that Alexander should collect waste for $1750 a month.

Alexander said last night that he will continue the collection of garbage under the provisions of the present contract until Monday. Then he expects

"CUMULATIVE"
DUPE GOES MAD.ALL HIS SAVINGS SWEEP AWAY.
HE "GIVES HIMSELF UP."

Jailed in Perplexity by Police, G. W. Packer is Rescued by His Son—Examined by Lynsey Commission. Scamp Fitzsimmons Resumes "Cumulative" Operations in Chicago.

"The evil that men do lives after them."

An echo of the misery breathed abroad in this community by the fraudulent Cumulative Credit Company (deceased) and its scamp progenitor, Orlando K. Fitzsimmons (deceased), was heard in Judge Bordwell's insanity court yesterday.

G. W. Packer, a quiet, honest appearing man of 57, came before the Commissioners in insanity for examination to determine whether he should be adjudged mad and committed to the State asylum at Highland. In the hearing it developed that he was one of the many victims of Fitzsimmons' financial rouser, and the loss of his entire savings by "investment" in the Cumulative Credit Company had unhinged his mind and thronged his disordered brain with thoughts of suicide.

The Cumulative Credit Company, exposed uncomprehendingly by The Times in news and editorial warnings to the people, was a scoundrelous operation by the law it had outraged. Closed out by the Sheriff's officers, its robber chief was forced to quit the scenes of his mischievous depredations. But among the poor, the ignorant and the simple-minded of this city the record of his rascality remains.

Hard, though the task be by honest working to keep such a scamp from paring with their skins, perhaps the brief story of the man Packer may deter others like him from being hooked and snuffed and poled by scoundrels.

In the future by this same Fitzsimmons—who at the present time is engaged in throwing out his state and local money, and is being hunted by the Sheriff's officers, his trade, he reared a family, and in his comparative old age succeeded in saving up and laying aside for a rainy day several hundred dollars. He was exactly the sort and size of fish Fitzsimmons angled for. He fell foul of one of the scamp's get-rich-quick books, and was quickly landed—landed without a struggle. In return for the "investment" of his fractional fortune in the Cumulative Credit Company, he was to receive annuity dividends, which would make him measurably independent for the last workless years of his life.

He was trimmed neatly and with dispatch. One night recently Packer wandered into police headquarters and said: "I understand you want me. I have come to give myself up."

Beyond this reiterated plaint nothing intelligible could be gotten from him by the officers, so until something definite could be found out about him, who he was and what ailed him, he was locked up in the city jail.

In this plight, the old man was discovered by his eldest son a few days later, and by him was taken home. There he rambled in his talk, suicide being the burden of his mumblings. To forestall a tragedy the son decided to have his father's mental condition looked into.

So yesterday Packer was brought before the Lunacy Commission for examination. "I feel much better than before," he told the commissioners, and he answered lucidly the questions they put. But it was only after prolonged effort that the cause of his trouble was learned. After having evaded this question for a considerable while, at length he said:

"Well, gentlemen, you're bound to find out, so I might as well tell you the whole story. Yesterday I was told that my trouble was due to a brain disease. My trouble is over money. That's what upset my head. I put every cent of my savings into the 'Cumulative Credit Company' and now I'm broke. I wouldn't think it was much, but I worked hard to get it and it was all I had. And now it's gone, every cent of it."

Further it developed that a younger son of Packer had been sent to an art institute in Chicago to study, and that as much as anything else it was over the prospect of not being able to do anything more for the lad, now that his savings were wiped out, that unhinged the father's mind and led him to his present plight.

The commission suggested that Packer be returned to the County Hospital for further treatment, in the hope that the mental condition could be bettered by rest under watch. But the son preferred to take his father to a private sanatorium, and to that the court agreed.

The Times has in its possession literature showing that Fitzsimmons by no means has abandoned his duping the public. He is still busy with his "get-rich-quick" books and letting them down among the simple. In a cunning and blasphemous booklet entitled "What Has Been Done for You," he compares himself with Jesus Christ as a "friend of mankind, and in a series of smoothly-worded paragraphs seeks to shake the confidence and the dollars of ignorant people and fools.

How long the Postoffice Department will tolerate the fraud and the scamp's credit fraud, and how long the city of Chicago will tolerate the pest of Fitzsimmons in its midst, shall be seen.

GRAND JURY INDICTMENT.

SEPULVEDA PLAYED BLACKMAIL.

Pio Sepulveda of West Glendale bumped up against the grand jury and so far has got the worst of it. He was yesterday brought into court and held in $1000 bail to answer to the indictment charging him with extortion. The grand jury returned the indictment on Tuesday and Sepulveda was speedily in the toils. He seemed to have an inkling of what was liable to befall him, for he returned certain "bush money" that he had received, but that didn't save him, and was, indeed, merely an evidence of his guilt.

His trouble arose out of the fact that Joe Sepulveda ran a "blind pig" at Glendale, and the animal was a lusty specimen of his kind. Piggy was unloosed without even a hobble on each Saturday night, and then convivially ran high that the morals of the community were outraged, and Deputy District Attorney Fleming and a posse raided the place and killed piggy.

Two months has been drinking at Sepulveda's place, and Sepulveda is alleged to have gone to the proprietor of the "blind pig" for the purpose of doing him good turns, he said. He told Sepulveda that as a friend he wanted to let him know that the two fellows who had been drinking at his place were going to tip off the officers. Sepulveda didn't feel happy at that piece of news, but felt better when Sepulveda informed him confidentially that both men could be squared. It would take $50 to do it, he said, but Sepulveda compromised on $35 and that amount Sepulveda is alleged to have pocketed.

But somehow the money didn't lie easy in Sepulveda's pocket. He got a hunch that the grand jury was liable to make inquiries about it, and finally he handed back the $35 to Sepulveda.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PASCAL GOES UP. J. Pascal Arbale was yesterday committed to the asylum at Patton by Judge Bordwell. Pascal is a Basque, who accompanied a countryman from his homeland to Tropico, where he has been working amid congenial surroundings for the old friend of his family. He worked very hard and then took ill and went to the Zoro Institute and paid $3, but got worse instead of better. The Zoro outfit was burned out and Pascal was handed over to the California Medical and Surgical Association, but before that institution's staff could do much with him he was arrested as an insane. The young man sits in a stupor most of the time, and occasionally shows violence.

ARROYO PARK. The Pasadena Park Improvement Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000, of which $500 has been subscribed. The directors are Frank R. Strong, S. W. Dorsey, R. Marsh, G. J. Denis, J. W. Yauson, F. W. Shattuck, W. H. Blades, M. J. Nolan and G. F. Burton, all of Los Angeles.

ETCHING MACHINES. The Thorpe International Etching Machine Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $20,000, of which $10,250 has been subscribed. The directors are W. G. Thorpe, J. R. Thorpe, W. C. Fisher, J. C. Finch and O. M. Pausch, all of Los Angeles.

A CRAZY SAILOR. John H. Hollman, a Swede, who has been following the profession of sailor and longshoreman at San Pedro, was yesterday committed to Patton by Judge Bordwell. Hollman is a physical wreck, but from what cause does not develop. He first attracted attention when he started nailing ingrain paper all over the floor of his room in place of carpet, and was arrested for disturbing the peace.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

RAG-PICKER SIGNS STAY.

THE BUENA-VISTA-STREET FEUD UNSETTLED.

Contractors Comply With the New Anti-obstruction Ordinance and the Suits Against Them are Withdrawn—Cops are Active After Bicycle Riders.

The latest effort to rid Buena Vista street of its trouble between James W. Stewart and C. E. Donnatin was a failure, and matters must remain the same until September 13.

This time Stewart was charged with disturbing the peace by the use of vile and obscene language to the wife of Donnatin, who lives just across the street.

The story has several times been told in the newspapers, giving in detail the means taken by Stewart to annoy his neighbor. He has, among other things, erected two posts in his own front yard upon which he has hung old cans and decorated them with legends supposed to cast reflections upon the character of his neighbor, Donnatin, and all efforts to abate the nuisance, in which Stewart seems to find great delight, notwithstanding the rag-picker's appearance it gives his premises, have thus far failed.

Because George Lewis, supposed to be a most important witness, was not available yesterday the case went over to September 13.

PEOPLE GET THEIR HALF.

COMPLAINTS WITHDRAWN.

The complaints against Henry R. Angelo, Robert Morehouse and T. F. Egan, charging them with obstructing the streets of the city, in their operations as building contractors, were yesterday withdrawn by the prosecuting attorney and the cases dismissed.

Up on the passage of a new ordinance last week, declaring the offense a misdemeanor and calling for at least one year's imprisonment for the offender, the contractors took the prompt steps to comply with the ordinance, and as that was the only end to be attained, they were not desirous to press the cases.

POLICE COURT SHORTS.

MEXICAN SHOW-UP.

Y. Nadie, a Mexican who went into the store of the Lane Dry Goods Company and stealthily stole a piece of silk under his coat, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny and will learn the length of his chain-gang siesta today. The silk was valued at $11.

The bicycle cop took a spurt yesterday and landed no less than seventeen violators of the ordinance which requires the carrying of an alarm bell and ride in the streets instead of on the sidewalks.

Howard Ashby was given 5 days for being drunk, but through the enterprise really working a film-fund game on a Jap storekeeper. The evidence was uncontradicted, and the drunk charge was substituted, as the man was actually drunk.

WON'T TAKE CRAZIES HOME.

COUNTY HOSPITAL THREATENS TO OVERFLOW.

Harmless Patients Sent Back from the Asylum, but Their Families Will Not Take 'Em to Their Bosoms. Another Contingent Coming Here in Few Days.

Dr. Barber has so many "crazies" at the County Hospital, that he doesn't know what to do. The situation, under the new insane asylum law, has become mighty serious.

Under the new law, insane patients are sent home to the families as soon as they are found to be out of the dangerous stage of the disease. All harmless patients are to be turned out of the asylums.

Came weeks ago the first squad of them came back to this city from the asylum. Unlooked-for, a catastrophe of the dangerous stage of the disease. Their families, in every case, firmly, but politely refused to take them home again. Each family swore they couldn't afford to be burdened with a crazy relative. Furthermore they wouldn't be burdened.

Dr. Barber couldn't turn them loose; he couldn't send the families to keep them home. All he could do was to keep them at the County Hospital. They are there still on the county charge.

In the work, at $16 a foot, and other engineers agree that his estimate is a liberal maximum. That makes a total of $14,400,000 for cement conduit, completed.

COST OF TUNNELS.

An outside estimate of the cost of tunnel work is $30 a foot. Including short tunnels through spurs of ridges, there will be at the most about twenty miles of such work, at a cost of $1,440,000. Working two shifts, which is the most economical method, it is estimated that the progress should be nine or ten feet a day to a "heading," and as work can be prosecuted from both ends of each tunnel, and in some cases through shafts, the tunnels should be completed in about three and a half years.

The character of the ground is such that there is no reason to believe that there will be serious trouble from water or heat.

ESTIMATES OF TOTAL COST.

We now have these figures, all acknowledged to be liberal estimates:
 Cost of survey and water rights. $1,500,000
 Cost of cement conduit. 14,400,000
 Cost of tunnels. 3,450,000
 Total. $19,350,000

An estimate of $22,000,000 leaves a liberal margin to pay for the requirement of additional water rights and land, for rights of way, for power development and for contingencies. Clearly, $25,000,000 is an outside estimate of the cost of the entire project.

INTO SAN FERNANDO BASIN.

The plan of the engineers is to discharge the water to be used for domestic purposes into the San Fernando basin, through either the Pacoima or the Tejuca Cañon, and allow it to sink in the wash and find its way through the gravel to the perforated underground intake galleries. It will take from three to five years for water, which sinks into the delta cone at the mouth of the cañon to percolate through the gravel to the lower end of the basin, and in that time it will be thoroughly filtered and made absolutely pure.

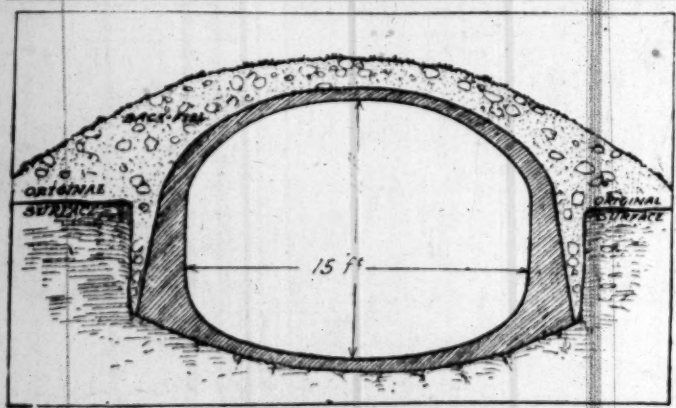

Water for irrigation may be turned into flumes, ditches or conduits in the cañons and distributed to ranches anywhere in the county. It is feasible, also, to supply water to Pasadena by driving a short tunnel from the Tejuca.

VALUE TO THE CITY.

The fall from the head of the conduit to San Fernando Valley is 2800 feet, and therefore it is possible to develop easily and cheaply an enormous amount of power. Should the city

WINEMAKERS CONFER HERE.

EASTERN MEMBERS OF TRADE ON PROMOTION VISIT.

President and Secretary of American Association in Party That Inspects Local Vineyards—Urges Need of Improving Business Conditions. Movement for Purity of Product.

A committee of eastern winemakers, representing the American Wine Growers' Association, has been in Los Angeles during the past few days. The association is a national organization, which includes practically all of the largest and leading wine growers, both in the eastern States and in California.

Mr. Alfred Stern of Charles Stern & Sons, and Mr. Secondo Guasti, of the Italian Vineyard Company, are vice-presidents of the association.

The visiting committee, which is composed of prominent eastern wine makers, is as follows: Edward R. Emerson, president of the association and president of the Brotherhood Wine Company; J. M. Randall, president of the Chautauque Wine Company; Jules Crane, manager of the Urbana Wine Company, and Lee J. Vance, secretary of the association, and publisher of the American Wine Press of New York City.

Speaking of the visit of the committee here, Mr. Vance said:

"At the last meeting of our association, a resolution was passed, whereby a committee was appointed to confer with a committee of California wine growers on certain matters for the good of the industry. After leaving Los Angeles and visiting several of the other wine districts, we shall meet with the California Committee in San Francisco."

"We all believe that the time has come when something should be done to improve the conditions in the wine trade. The business of grape growing and winemaking in the United States has now reached considerable proportions. Many thousands of people are engaged and many millions of dollars are invested in the industry, which has a great future."

"As a result of the coming conference, it is believed that broad plans will be made to push the wine trade more successfully in the future than has been done in the past. All that we need is to have intelligent and organized effort to put the wine business where it belongs, and where it will be separated in the minds of the public from the beer and whisky business. In this we should have the approval and support of all those who favor temperance and moderation."

"There is no doubt that it would be a good thing to increase the consumption of wines in this country at the expense of beer and whisky drinking. The millions of wine-drinking people of European countries are temperate"
